Path of Light

The symbol of the LAMP is referred to in the nursing community as the “Florence Nightingale Lamp.” Florence Nightingale, remembered as the founder of nursing as a profession, made history during the Crimean War (1854-1856) when she took 38 women to Turkey to care for sick and wounded British soldiers; something the British government had never before allowed women to do. She was the only woman allowed to be in the wards after eight at night, and as she made her rounds, encouraging and caring for the wounded, the soldiers began to call her “The Lady with the Lamp.”

Pinning of Graduates

The tradition of the nursing pin and the ceremonial pinning we know today originated in the 1860's at the Nightingale School of Nursing in St. Thomas Hospital, London. Having been recently awarded The Red Cross of St. George for her selfless service to the injured and dying in the Crimean War, Ms. Nightingale chose to extend this honor to her most outstanding graduate nurses by presenting each of them with a medal for excellence.

The Wolverton Royal Hospital in England initiated the tradition of presenting all graduates with a badge. The first pin was presented to the graduating class of 1880 at the Bellevue Hospital of Nursing in New York City. The pin presented to graduates was both beautiful and symbolic. It featured a crane in the center for vigilance, encircled with a band of blue for constancy, and an outer band of red for mercy and relief of suffering.

PLEDGE

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly, to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully.

I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug.

I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standard of my profession and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping, and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling.

With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

*The Staff and Faculty of Dorsey College congratulate the graduates of the class of 2025-2026
and wish them a lifetime of success.*
